

Paraphrasing World Events

By H. C.
A Labor M.P. called Ramsay MacDonald "A swine, a low dirty creature that ought to be horsewhipped." The Prime Minister made no reply but we understand he was not cowed by the lambasting.

Several heads of labor unions disapproved the Unemployment Insurance Bill as soon as they saw it. They don't want the worker to contribute anything toward it. The percentage paid by the worker is, however, the feature that distinguishes it from the dolo.

A clergyman had to apologize to Sir John Simon for saying that Sir John in his attitude toward the League of Nations was influenced by his investments in armament firms. The orator had made a good point which no doubt provoked a deal of applause from people who were glad to hear it and would be glad to repeat it. The only flaw in it was that it was not a fact.

There are thousands who paid insurance premiums for forty or fifty years and never had a fire, and there will, we hope, be many thousands who will contribute toward the unemployment insurance fund and never draw a cent out of it.

Messrs. King and Woodworth claim that Mr. Bennett stole planks from their platforms. If true, it can easily be proven through Koehler, the wood expert.

In the United States the wealthy man is no longer a political power.—N.Y. Sun.

He is out upon a limb.
No one seems to think of him,
His welfare's no party's care,
"Forgotten man"—the millionaire.

Statistics issued by telephone companies are said to be the best index of business. Unless, of course, they give us the wrong number.

There was clever detective work done in the Hauptmann case, but the technologist who traced the wood used in making the ladder and detected the unusual mark made by a plane deserves special mention. Novelists who specialize in detective stories never imagined anything to equal this and they have a great advantage in that they know at the start who the villain is, how he committed his horrid crime, and how it was brought home to him.

Railway unions are opposing solutions of the railway problem, because each one suggested means a reduction of employees and perhaps of pay. Will the unions themselves say what they did to avert the trouble and what they now would do to improve the situation? Do they expect the present condition to be continued indefinitely under which other wage-earners must dip their hands in their pockets to help make up the wages of railwaymen?

Students' Union is Sponsoring a Banquet and Dance

At a meeting of the Students' Union on Monday complete and minute plans were made for the students' banquet on Friday, February 22nd. The banquet will be held in the basement of the Odd Fellows' hall early in the evening of the date and will be followed by a public dance. The Len Davis orchestra will provide the music for the dance. Students and ex-students of the Vulcan High School will be invited to the banquet, and a large turnout is anticipated. The meeting on Monday was characterized by interest and enthusiasm, and the eagerness of the students in the planning of the banquet and dance is sufficient proof that it is going to be a success.

Will Present Play in March
The largest part of Monday's meeting was devoted to the planning of the presentation of the three-act play, "The Beloved Vagabond" at the Vulcan theatre sometime in March. This play will be presented under the direction of D. A. Allred with an all-student cast. Complete and detailed plans were made for the presentation of this play.

Finals in Mixed Bonspiel Completed on Tuesday

Campbell, Ransom and Brown Rinks
Winners in Three Events; Close
Competition in Ransom-
Naylor Final

One of the most successful mixed bonspiels ever staged under auspices of the Vulcan Curling Club was completed on Tuesday evening when the final events in three competitions were played. For one week the three sheets of ice at the club's rink have been busy, afternoon and evening, as the various stages of the competitions have been played. Twenty-two rinks started in the main competition, of these, half the number dropped to the secondary event in the first draws of the competition.

Main Competition
In the main event the Campbell, Love, Marshall and Collier rinks came through the stages of the draws to the semi-finals. In the semi-finals the Collier rinks defeated the Love rink, and the Campbell four won from Marshall. The final was a one-sided affair, Campbell winning from Collier 13-8. During the early ends of the game the Collier rink tied their opponents by making a 5 counter in the third. But from then on the Campbell group had things their own way.

Campbell 410 150 101 0—13
Collier 005 001 010 1—8

Personnel of the winning rink in order of play: Don Ulrich, Miss Mary Zang, Jack Lebeau and N.S. Campbell.

Secondary Competition
Losers in the first round of the main event dropped to the first round of the secondary competition. In the four of this event McFarlane defeated McIntosh, Ransom defeated Willard, Green defeated Butchart, and Naylor defeated King. The Ransom rink won from the McFarlane rink in the semi-final, and Naylor defeated Green. The final between Ransom and Naylor was one of the keenest, and closely scoring games of the entire bonspiel. All through the 'spiel the games were 10 ends, but this one went to the eleventh end before the Ransom rink nosed out their opponents by one point. At the eighth end the rinks were tied 9-9. Ransom scored three in the ninth, and Naylor three in the tenth to make the game go an extra end.

Ransom 005 001 213 01—13
Naylor 230 220 000 30—12

Personnel of the winning rink in order of play: Stewart Campbell, J. McFadden, K. Horne and W. Ransom.

Consolation Event

The losers of the first six games in the secondary event dropped to the consolation competition. The Allan and Dr. Heal rinks drew a bye to get into the semi-finals. In the first round Peterson defeated Clark, and Brown defeated Jones. In the semi-finals Brown defeated Peterson, and Allan defeated Heal. The final ended in a win for the Brown rink 18-6.

Brown 204 022 105 2—18
Allan 020 200 020 0—6

Personnel of the winning rink in the order of play: Mrs. Mackintosh (substituting for Mrs. Gold), Mrs. Munro, Harry Pratten and B. Brown.

Johnny Canucks Meet

Members of the Johnny Canuck Junior U.F.A. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hay for their 70th meeting. Twenty-four members were present. Following the business of the meeting, during which it was decided to get Mrs. E. A. Haynes to coach the cast of the play now in preparation for one day, Mr. Leon Bateman gave a report of the U.F.A. convention, and Mr. Lee Richardson gave his junior paper. These items were interesting and received much applause. After the meeting, Mrs. Hay served lunch. This was followed by play practice. Those not in the cast of the play spent the balance of the evening playing games. Before leaving, the president thanked Mr. and Mrs. Hay for the use of their home, enabling the local to have one of its most interesting meetings. The next meeting of the group will be held in Mayview school on Wednesday, February 20th, at 8:30 p.m.

On next Thursday evening, February 21st, an "At Home" entertainment will be held in the Legion Memorial hall, for members and their ladies. Entertainment will include cards, dancing, followed by lunch.

Vulcan Drops 'Mediate Series to Gleichen Gunners

Gunners Win First Round of Intermediate Series by a Total Score of 4-2.

In the first round of the Alberta Intermediate hockey series the Gleichen Gunners were victorious. They defeated the Vulcan Elks in a two game series by the total score of 4-2. The score of each game was 2-1. The first game was played at Gleichen on Friday evening and the final game was played at the local arena on Monday night. The game here Monday was the best for attendance this season, over 800 fans packed the arena to cheer their favorite team.

Monday's Game
Over 800 wildly cheering fans saw the Gleichen-Gunners defeat the local intermediate hockey team on Monday evening. The score was 2-1. The ice throughout the game was slow and in a sugary condition, due to the mild weather of the week-end. Gleichen scored both their counters in the first frame. At the 1:15 mark D. Brown scored on a pass from Marquardt, and at the 5 minute mark Maynard scored unassisted. Vulcan got their lone tally in the second period at the 15 minute mark, S. Thomas scoring on a pass from Robson. The final frame was poor from the fans point of view. The Gunners played a defence game, naturally with their two goal lead in the series. The puck was shot the length of the ice time after time. Vulcan tried hard but could not concentrate the heavy defence placed by the Gunners. During the game there were two disputed goals, one in the first period and one in the second. Both were seemingly made by Vulcan, but were disallowed. The goal judge was changed. Very few penalties were handed out. Earl Overland was referee.

Friday Night's Game

On Friday evening the Vulcan Elks went to Gleichen and played the first game in the intermediate playoffs. They were defeated by the Gunners 2-1. The Brown boys featured in the play for the winners, and Jim Clark was the outstanding player on the Elks' line-up, in the goal, according to daily press reports.

Lineup of Teams

Gleichen: Wilson, Maynard, Marquardt, R. Brown, T. Brown, C. Brown, Virgil Nelson, Vincent Nelson, Taylor, Cadon.

Vulcan: Clarke, M. Thomas, Larocche, Harper, E. Thomas, Robson, Dillingham, Ruffen, D. Norton.

Goal Summary

First period: 1-Gleichen, D. Brown; 2-Gleichen, Maynard.
Second period: No score.
Third Period: 3-Vulcan, Thomas.

Vulcan Theatre Installing New Projection and Sound Equipment

Entire Theatre will be Lined with Acoustic Board; When Job Completed will be one of Best Equipped Theatres in Province.

Some time about the middle of March, patrons of the Vulcan theatre will be ushered into a new era of motion picture presentation, when, by that time, installation will be completed of new projection machines and sound equipment. It is the aim of Manager Robson to have one of the best equipped theatres in the province. Besides the new projection room equipment, the entire theatre will be lined with acoustic board, assuring the movie fans the best of sound.

Two Powers motion picture projecting machines are being placed in the theatre. These are machines of the best type used by city theatres throughout the country. They are built for heavy duty and are, in the opinion of most theatre managers, the best machines made. These machines will be equipped with the latest type arc lamps, giving a clear, brilliant picture on the screen.

Along with the projectors, new sound equipment will be placed. The equipment selected by Manager Robson for the reproduction of the sound from the film is the R.C.A. "Wide Range" type. This brand of reproducing equipment is noted for its true tone, giving the widest range of total volume yet produced in the talking motion pictures.

LOCAL ITEMS

A Tea and Bazaar will be held in the United Church hall on Saturday, March 2nd at 3 o'clock, under auspices of the Junior C.G.I.T.

Miss Marjorie Hill is a patient in the Vulcan hospital, convalescing after an operation for appendicitis. She will return to her home this weekend.

The regular monthly general meeting of the Vulcan branch of the Canadian Legion will be held at the club rooms of the branch on this Thursday evening. The meeting will be followed by a smoker.

Mr. A. J. Flood, who has been a patient in the Vulcan Municipal hospital for the past two weeks, has sufficiently recovered from his illness to return to his home. Friends are pleased to see him around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gahn of Calgary, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Woodman during the past two weeks, returned to their home on Sunday. Miss Addie Woodman was also a visitor with her parents on Sunday, returning with Mr. and Mrs. Gahn to Calgary in the evening.

The billiard tournament at the Canadian Legion club has just been completed. The winner was J. D. Williams with R. W. McFarlane as runner-up. The consolation event was won by Walter McDermott, who defeated Russel Carruthers in the final of that event. Durr Skinner won the high break competition.

A few days ago the Advocate received from the Dominion Press Clipping Agency, Toronto, a bundle of clippings from other newspapers in which the Advocate was quoted. These clippings showed how widely the editorial column of your home town paper are used by the daily press, as well as other interesting items. The clippings are from such papers as The Vancouver Province, The Toronto Telegram, The Financial Post, Calgary Albertan, McLean's Magazine, Lethbridge Herald, Market Examiner and many others.

Miss Dorothy Ottewill was pleasantly surprised recently at a party held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ottewill, in honor of her coming 18th birthday. The invited guests were Dorothy Ottewill, Edna McPherson, Ruth and Evelyn Peterson, Carol Marshall, Ruby Collier, Lillian McKinley, Lily Thompson, Joyce Robson, Charles Carson, Harold Woodward, Norman Lockhart, Albert Collier, Clifford McAuliffe, Garnet Discher, Mary Evernden, Walter and Lawrence Ottewill, Royce Clark, Alden Johnson and Earl Robson.

A pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. J. Marshall on February 1st, when the regular meeting of the Vulcan W.I. took the form of a valentine party. Seventeen ladies were present and three new members were added to the membership roll. Mrs. Monkman and Mrs. Marshall Sr. were prize winners in contests staged during the afternoon. Mrs. Shaw was appointed delegate to attend the District Conference at Lethbridge, and Mrs. Marshall the delegate to attend the provincial conference in Edmonton. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Clark on March 1.

Alberta's proposed poultry marketing plan, under the Natural Products Marketing Act, was the subject of address and discussion at the meeting held in the Odd Fellows' hall on Saturday evening. The meeting was well attended. E. A. Carey, of Lethbridge was the speaker. He described the proposed plan, that will be voted on during the week of February 17th to 23rd. Following the description of the plan questions were asked. According to those in attendance, the questions were not answered as fully as expected. The speaker wanted to form a committee, but those present could see no need for a committee in the district.

STUNG!

The climax was nearing. I knew what was coming but I did not have the power to stop him. I was putty in his hands. Should I accede to his desires? I listened to his passionate appeal and felt weak. I was but a woman alone and with no one to keep me company. What should I say? I tried to get a grip on myself. How could I say no to him, the poor sweet boy. Suppose I did as he wished, who would know? Harry was away. Nevertheless I felt weak. "All right, boy," I almost whispered, "I'll subscribe for one year."

Women's Missionary Society of United Church Met

Presbytery Meeting at High River on Tuesday; Many Vulcan Visitors

A Presbyterial Meeting of the United Church Women's Missionary Society of the High River Presbytery was held in the church hall in High River on Tuesday, February 12. A large attendance marked the occasion and the sessions were full of interest for all. Vulcan delegates included: Mesdames W. J. Robson, L. F. Dawson, A. K. Maisey, W. D. Allan, W. Jamieson, and McPherson.

The devotional period at the morning session was taken by the Alderside auxiliary. An interesting hour was spent listening to the reports of the various groups, and to the reports of the Presbyterial secretaries. The hearing of these doings of 1934, the untiring efforts of small groups of women to sustain this work, was inspiring to all those present. The secretary of Christian Stewardship gave a very encouraging report, showing a considerable gain over last year. Many Auxiliaries were able to report that they had met their allocation, and some few were above the mark. All were willing to accept a still higher allocation for 1935.

The Claresholm secretary reported that Mrs. Harback, formerly of Vulcan, was working with them, and was a real help to their society. The morning session closed with the memorial service for departed members by the Cayley group.

The afternoon session was opened with devotional service by the Okotoks ladies. This was followed by the election of officers. During the afternoon the meeting was entertained by vocal duets and solos by High River ladies, also a physical drill which was conducted by Mrs. Miles of High River. The president's remarks took the form of a survey of the activities of the W.M.S. in Canada during 1934. In October of this year the 10th anniversary of the organization of the W.M.S. will be celebrated. Rev. Bell of Brant delivered an address before the officers were installed. The meeting was then closed by the Tongue Creek auxiliary.

Little Bow Bonspiel Held Here Wednesday

Five Towns Enter Ten Rinks in Annual Association Event; Two Competitions with Trophies

Ten rinks of curlers from five towns entered the Little Bow Curling Bonspiel this year. This is an annual event held by the association, and the Vulcan curlers played hosts. The event was held in town yesterday. Two competitions were played, the main event for the Lethbridge Brewery trophy, and the consolation event for the Burns' trophy. Along with the silver mugs went valuable prizes to the winners of the competitions. Among the prizes on display at the rink were auto-rugs, pen and pencil sets, scarves, gloves, carving sets, and many other articles.

Brant, Blackie, Champion, Barons and Vulcan were the towns represented. The rinks from each town were: Brant—McKay and Gould, Blackie—Yoeman and Anderson, Champion—Jopling and Dawson, Vulcan—Lebeau and McFarlane. The Carmangay Club was the only one of the Association memberships not represented.

The main event was won by the Jopling rink from Champion, which defeated the Yoeman rink from Blackie in the finals.

In the consolation event, the final will be between Gould of Brant and the winners of the semi-finals to be played by two Vulcan rinks skipped by Lebeau and McFarlane. These games will be played at a later date.

Elsewhere in this issue is the complete layout of both competitions, showing the play game by game.

The group meetings of the United Church Ladies' Aid society will be held at the following homes on Thursday afternoon, February 21: Group No. 1 at the home of Mrs. R. Robbie, Group No. 2 at the home of Mrs. H. B. Ulrich, Group No. 3 at the home of Mrs. T. B. Lebeau, and Group No. 4 at the home of Mrs. G. McMann.

School Board Trustees Elected for 2-Year Term

At a poll of the ratepayers of the Vulcan School District, No. 1902, held at the municipal office on Monday, from ten o'clock in the forenoon to seven o'clock in the afternoon, the following three were elected to the board of trustees for the term of two years: Mrs. Jessie M. Gold, Fred T. Graham and Everett G. McPherson. Voting went as follows: Robert Brown 100, Mrs. Jessie M. Gold 160, Fred Graham 201, Everett McPherson 126, Wilmer L. Seaman 53.

Program Arranged for Vulcan Orchestra Concert

For the past few weeks the members of the Vulcan concert Orchestra, numbering eighteen, have been busy practicing for the concert to be held at the Vulcan theatre on Wednesday, February 20th at 8:30 p.m. Along with the orchestra, the vocalists, musical trios and soloists have been arranging their numbers. FORM MUTUAL TELEPHONE COMPANY

(From The Bow Valley Resource)

The Buffalo Hill Mutual Telephone Co. Ltd., held a general meeting at the Union Jack school on Tuesday, Feb. 5th, with most of the present subscribers of Line 1300 in attendance. There were also many present from adjoining lines who were interested in proceedings, in view of the fact that they are considering the forming of companies on their respective lines. Mr. Phillips, Superintendent of the Lethbridge Division, was in attendance and addressed the meeting, giving quite a lengthy talk on the reason why the Government is disposing of the rural lines and the benefits to be derived from the acquisition of same by present and other subscribers, instancing many mutual companies while having been in operation only a short time, would not consider selling out for anything like the amount they had invested. Those nominated to the Board of Directors were: Mr. Donald Sinclair, Mr. Joseph Richardson and Mr. A. E. Stirling; President, Mr. Wilson Oldfield; Sec.-Treas. Mr. Leslie Richardson. The authorized capital is $600. There will be another meeting of the company in about ten days' time to complete the financial arrangements and set a time somewhere near the first of March when this line will be taken over from the Government.

Sharp shooters at the Legion club are practicing with their cues in preparation for a snooker tournament, in which competition is now being started. All members are invited to participate.

Members of the Vulcan Citizens' Band are hereby notified that a meeting for re-organization and practice will be held in the Canadian Legion hall on this Sunday, February 17th, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. All members are urgently requested to be in attendance.

A MILLENNIUM

It is strange that our minds accept quite readily the remarkable advances in scientific fields, and balk at any radical social betterment, or any possibility of the masses of human beings enjoying the benefits of science.

No one disbelieves that robots may be developed to achieve almost any mechanical task, that the possibility of machinery replacing human power is almost unlimited. We accept the probable fact that thousands of inventions are being kept off the market which, if released, would revolutionize all fields of industry. We believe that there are milking machines which can clean and milk sixty head of cows in 12 minutes, that a man can sit comfortably on his perch and direct the operations of robot farm machinery, that there can be a razor blade good for a life time and sold for thirty cents. And we know that every mechanical advance, reduces the buying power of the nation. Yet it seems quite incredible to us that society as a whole can re model the plan of living in order to reap the benefit of mechanical progress.

Our minds are governed by the rules prevailing in ages of scarcity. Unremitting labor and thrift have been the ideals of so many generations, that the sign posts pointing to the day when unremitting labor will be not only unnecessary but impossible, leave us bewildered and shaken.

So many of the old precepts that simplified the routine of existence will have to be abandoned. Man must no longer live by the sweat of his brow, if civilization is to go forward. The only other alternative is to turn back the hands of time, destroy the creations of scientific minds and revert to the primitive. If this is not to be done, we must accept the probability of a wider sharing of the good things of life, and a more leisurely individual living.

The technocrats picture a millennium near at hand when all society will enjoy a scale of living hitherto unimagined. They say that in that age applied Christianity will be possible, instead of the barbaric current methods by which the security of one is based on the insecurity of another.

Economic insecurity lies at the root of most of the unhappinesses and worries of humanity. But many of our troubles have no connection with money or worldly goods. They have their origin in petty and unkindly qualities of heart and mind. Human beings are so constituted that, having no troubles they create troubles. They inflict harm on others, for no apparent reason except an inward warping. Perhaps in the new scientific millennium, human beings will be "treated" for unpleasant dispositions and characters. So that having all material comfort, we will also be released from all disagreeable social qualities.

If, or when, the harassing problem of economic security is solved for everyone, we will have to turn attention to the development of character, under entirely different incentives than now prevail.

THAT FRIDAY TREPIDATION

Not a newspaper in the province but will echo these sentiments as expressed by the editor of the Coleman Journal:

"A newspaper, even though it be a small country weekly, does not just happen, despite the general opinion that everyone can run a newspaper better than the fellow whose job it is to publish the news. Were we content to use the scissors and paste, we could escape a lot of pounding on the typewriter, but we would miss some mental exercise and a certain amount of pleasant entertainment. You may publish a newspaper for a whole year and write a lot of stuff cudgelled from the dim recesses of a thick cranium and never know if anyone read it or not, but make one foolish slip or tread on someone's corns and then you soon find out if people read the paper.

"We remember one old fellow who climbed two flights of stairs to tell the editor he had used the word "done" instead of "did" in a sentence as an object lesson to be careful what we put in the paper. That lesson stuck with us all through the years, and though we may have been guilty of many mistakes, both before and since, yet it was interesting to know that there is ever a vigilant eye which might swoop on you for some trivial error. Yet it is the small things that count, often more so than the big things. So, in newspaper publishing, you never know who is reading it. At one time we had quite a run on "bad breaks," unintentional, of course, and we used to keep out of the way for a half day after the paper was published, for Friday seemed to be the traditional unlucky day, but for quite a long time there hasn't appeared anyone brandishing a club or a fist, or weeping tears of indignation at something we had written or said. We must be getting older and wiser or people must have become more peaceful or more indulgent."

A FAILURE IN EDUCATION

There are many parents, and many teachers also, who read a recent editorial in the Calgary Herald, with complete agreement. It quoted the president of King's College, Nova Scotia, who regretted a very serious defect in present day educational methods, which is the scant attention given to the correct use of the English language. In the president's opinion the very A-B-C of an educational course should be the mastery of the principles of English composition, and the acquirement of a clear and vigorous style of expression. The Herald says: "The attainment in this respect is so amazingly low in the average student at a university today, and the ambition to excel so generally absent, that one is forced to the conclusion that a proficiency in the use of the mother tongue is not being fostered."

"The atrociously bad English spoken by the average young person, the inability to write a decently grammatical letter are deterrent influences to success. Numerous parents who have by some means learned to use reasonably good English, are amazed when their children in conversation reveal a total lack of knowledge concerning the proper use of common words."

Practically all human contacts are made through language, either spoken or written. In our own country, the English language is the common medium, and all first impressions of persons and personalities are created through speech or letter. The transmission of our thoughts and ideas is through language, and our failure to convey the meaning which we intend is through our meagre knowledge of our mother tongue, or a meagre knowledge on the part of our associates. Surely when the use of English is the medium of contact in all associations and dealings, the most important and vital study is language. English grammar, English composition, the study of words, these occupy only a small place in the curriculum of studies considering their importance.

Many reasons are advanced for this deficiency in educational results, and the tendency toward carelessness is by no means confined to the young people. But mainly, the fault appears to lie with the course of study, particularly in the secondary schools. School teachers today are able, and more thoroughly equipped, academically and practically, than they have ever been. It is noteworthy also, that teachers of English have usually great enthusiasm for, and enjoyment in their work. They would welcome greater opportunity to impress more thoroughly, the fundamental rules of grammar, the fascinating study of words. But under the demand of our cluttered curriculum, there is no time for lingering and savoring, no time to give students a real mastery of the instrument most necessary in every contact of their lives. A revision of the course of study to overcome this obvious defect would find as ardent supporters amongst teachers as amongst the parents.

LEGISLATURE OPENS

The speech from the throne and subsequent developments in Legislature indicate an interesting final session. Amongst activities outlined in the Throne speech, were greater outlays on secondary and market roads in the province, and assistance to settlers in cultivating new homestead areas. A revision of court rules was promised in order to simplify procedure and reduce costs of litigation.

A bill will be introduced to establish a public trustee in the matter of estates. Much of the speech from the throne was occupied in discussing the need for reduced interest, and the necessity of writing down debts if the prices of primary products can not be raised.

In the field of education it is planned that the school curriculum will be brought up to date, with a greater attention to the needs of students, unlikely to go forward to university life. No definite hope was given that municipalities would be relieved of taxation or that there would be a more equitable distribution of revenue from taxation. But a commission is investigating this matter.

A possibility of re-distribution of seats has been rumored but no official statement has been made.

From the Liberal side of the house has come a resolution for the refunding of the provincial debt amounting to $144,000,000. This urges that bonds be floated at par and at rates of interest to cover cost of operation. It also urged that bondholders refusing to permit the refunding be paid off in cash.

The Liberals also call for an investigation into the charge of an oil monopoly in the province. They ask an immediate conference of independent oil companies, dry gas consumers, gas and oil consumers, surface owners and lease holders, in order to develop the industry equitably, and ask a probe into cost of production, refining and distributing. The resolution states that there is widespread conviction among the people that the oil industry has been allowed to be controlled by a monopoly to the detriment of consumers.

The Conservatives ask that the government declare its stand on the C.C.F.

A scheme for better housing on the farms was advanced by a U.F.A. member.

So with all these resolutions and proposals dealing with the Province as a whole and with sectional interests, the papers should be full of news for the next two months.

MATRIMONIAL ADVANTAGES

From time to time it has been suggested that the admirable services rendered to their country by Prime Minister Bennett and Mr. King would have been even more admirable if they had enjoyed the advantages of marriage. In other words, sweet are the uses of domestic discipline. The line taken generally suggests that if these two government leaders had had daily first hand association with a family of young people, they would long ago have developed an immediate and constructive plan for salvaging the youth of the country. They would have been confronted daily with the destructive result of inaction, compulsory idleness and loss of hope, and they would have gone into the business of solving unemployment with a vigor and resourcefulness that has been lacking.

It has been left to Charles Willis of the Stettler Independent to take up this matter of matrimonial education in a new way. He says "Both matrimony and politics are founded on compromise; and Mr. Bennett has been deprived of a general education which a domestic overseer would have given. Back in 1930 he was united to Miss Canada in a marriage of a companionate nature. To bring about this union he made certain promises such as all bridegrooms are accustomed to make. The union took place in the summer and for a time everybody was happy. But time went on, and he did not treat Miss Canada as he had promised during the courtship. He gallivanted with other women, ladies of mature age such as Miss Sound Money and Miss Vested Interests and other painted persons of major finance. And when he did come home and the cupboard was bare, he failed to supply her with groceries and clothes, but told her to tighten her belt and live like her grandmother used to. He told her she was mighty lucky to get him instead of a fellow like King that was tied up with Miss Beauharnois, or this man Woodworth that was going around with Miss Communist. Although once in awhile he had symptoms of remorse he was often very domineering, and no young woman likes a husband who has nothing to suggest but a more restricted waistline.

Miss Canada, it must be confessed has been casting her eyes in other directions, but now that the marriage contract is to be renewed or dissolved, as the case may be, Mr. Bennett suddenly comes home to tell her he loves her as much as ever, and no husband in the whole wide world would treat her as well as he would. Now what would a right minded girl do about all this. What is she going to do?"

Mr. Willis suggests that Mr. Bennett should have consulted Dorothy Dix long, long ago, but even now it may not be too late.

INTERESTING ITEMS

South Africa is averse to participating in any General Empire scheme of defense.

Montagu Norman, president of the Bank of England and "mystery man of finance" is said to be slated for a title.

Premier Reid plans new market roads, aid to homesteaders, revision of rules of court to reduce costs, amendments to debt adjustment act.

Liberals opened fire in Legislature by urging a plan for the refunding of Alberta's provincial debt, amounting to $144,000,000.

The three Canadian political leaders are agreed on the necessity for social reform but Mr. Woodsworth has an advantage over the other two in that he can put his message across on Sundays and from the pulpit.

Hon. Robert Weir has introduced a plan to combat west drought problems, by building dams, sowing grass reforestation, etc. An area of 36 square miles may be used as a test scheme with eventual reclamation of 10,000,000 acres planned.

In Quebec, large political demonstrations are held on Sunday afternoons, not in the churches, but often the orators declaim from the church steps. There, too, the joint meeting — assemblée contradictoire — still prevails — although it has gone out of vogue in other parts of the country. It has no great political value. No one ever went to one a Grit and came back a Tory, or vice versa.

A Chicago firm, who is in the customs house brokerage business writes The Market Examiner to say that cattle that are shipped "in bond" to the Chicago (and presumably in a corresponding degree to other American yards) get a difference of from $30 to $60 a car in duty paid at a border port of the U.S.A. and Chicago varies from $30 to $60 a car on cattle weighing over 750 lb.

Men and women with shady pasts and presents were willing to appear as witnesses at Flemington, in spite of the gruelling that respectable witnesses received. As the defence funds were meagre, we can attribute their willingness only to a moronic impulse to get into the spotlight if only for one brief, inglorious moment.

Fifteen thousand Toronto people were allowed to hear Tim Buck in the Maple Leaf Gardens. A rather small crowd — some 10,000 — heard him in Montreal. But in Ottawa they wouldn't let him hire a hall. Are we afraid of what he might say? or are we suppressing free speech as they do in Russia? — Ottawa Citizen.

ONE INSTANCE OF INTEREST GROWTH

The way of interest with a man is being amply demonstrated before the official receivers of the Farmer-Creditor Boards. Here is one example out of the many.

Fourteen years ago a farmer north east of Calgary mortgaged his half section farm to the extent of $4000 bearing 8 per cent interest.

In the intervening years he paid in interest and principal $3,912, just $88 less than the original borrowing.

Today he still owes $3,154 set out at $4,070 principal, and $4,084 interest. The principal amount, at present greater than the original loan, results from certain items of interest being added to the principal at various times.

DECISIONS IN FARMER-CREDITOR

Cases Where Board of Review Has Handed Out Judgment

Amongst judgments arrived at by the Board of Review, the most drastic writing off to date, was writing down of a second mortgage on a section of land from $27,000 to $11,000. Another sharp write down in a mortgage given as additional security on promissory notes was made, when a mortgage held by a chartered bank was written down from $11,633.72 to $2,900 bearing interest at 5%. Previous interest was 8%.

A Bow Island farmer owing $13,820 had reductions of $9,820 made in his debt. A Barons farmer owing $101,733 had debts scaled to $70,031. His assets were listed in the proposal as $60,000. Though operating on a large scale, the Board thought he could carry on. In addition he is relieved further by a cut of 50% in accrued interest on a Winnipeg Assurance mortgage.

A first mortgage of $6,595 was reduced to $5,314 repayable over ten years at 6%. A bank claim for $3,600 on chattel mortgage by implement companies for $1,123 and $1,270 were reduced to $836 and $405 repayable in four and three annual instalments.

General reduction in interest was two per cent, and prevailing rate before reduction was 8%. Some cases had interest reduced to 5%. Repayment terms are based mainly on ability of the farmer to get returns from his land.

BILLY VAN

---- Says:

One of the most successful salesmen of this time, Mr. Billy Van, says that successful salesmanship is simply the application of showmanship to merchandising.

"The secret of success in acting is to rehearse and rehearse and rehearse until you have created an unforgettable impression upon the mind of the actor. He then lives his part. His sincerity enables his audience to live it with him. Of course, the play must be good. It gets you nowhere to have people say, 'Billy Van was great, but the show was rotten!' Similarly you you must have a good product, and because you are talking to a procession and not a standing crowd, your advertising must be insistent and persistent. You must rehearse and rehearse and rehearse if both the show and the actors—the product and the actors—are to get their message across—to create the unforgettable impression.

"There is no such thing as sales resistance to quality merchandise at the right price," said Mr. Van. "The secret of salesmanship is to give as much as possible for as little as possible."

BENNETT REFORMS SWEEP COUNTRY

(By Dr. G. D. Stanley)
The sentiment at Ottawa, which must be accepted as the focus towards which Canada's variegated political opinion concentrates, is that Mr. Bennett's proposals have literally swept the country off its unsteady political feet, and have enthused Canadians in general with a cheerful optimism, and a hopeful determination that laughs at the threatening grimaces of St. James Street, and the piffling pin-pricks of selfish partisans.

Mr. MacKenzie King made what will now be known as his "I put it in a book" speech. He was endeavoring with many words and much vehemence to claim credit for many of Mr. Bennett's ideas and after he had reached the point where he accused the Prime Minister of a sudden conversion he burst forth as follows:

"I have not arrived at my views on this question by thinking them very seriously for the last two or three years. I have thought over these questions all my life and the view I am expressing now is no deathbed repentance on the eve of a general election."

General Stewart (Lethbridge): "What did you do?" (emphasis on "do").

Mr. MacKenzie King: "I will tell you what I did, I put my views in a book."

The Prime Minister followed with his speech and opened in these words: "The difference between the two parties is readily explained in one sentence of the right hon. gentleman. He said, 'I put these things in a book.'"

Mr. MacKenzie King: "That is more than the Prime Minister has ever done."

Mr. Bennett: "The right hon. gentleman now makes it clear that the book he referred to is Industry and Humanity. Well, I have always found it a little difficult to discover what Job meant when he said he wished his adversary had written a book, until I heard the speech this afternoon, and then I realized the full meaning of the observation. But I turned to a more modern and relevant comment to be found in Revelations: 'And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet-as honey.'"

The following tilt also occurred:

Mr. Bennett—"The only difference between my right hon. friend and me is that he put these things in a little book; I put them on the statute books. It is true that they (the reform measures) expect to meet opposition as usual. The right hon. gentleman yesterday pledged the support of his party, but he surrounded it with conditions as usual and limitations as usual, in such a way as would interfere with the government of the day in the transaction of its business. He suggested that we should join with him for reform. When did an opposition ever reform anything? Why should we join that opposition to bring about any reform?"

Mr. King—"Because the Prime Minister is masquerading as a Liberal."

Mr. Bennett—"Now the cat is out of the bag. I put these things in a book, he says. Masquerading as a Liberal! If that be so, there should have been no objection on the part of the right hon. gentleman to placing these reforms upon the statute book when he had the opportunity. Why did he not do so?"

Mr. Donnelly—"There was no need for them."

Mr. Bennett—"There was no need for them! Go and ask the thousands of people who have been bankrupted by the speculation that took place during the regime of the late government."

ITEMS OF INTEREST

A new redistribution act is said to be on the way provincially.

Ottawa has passed a motion urging construction of the Peace River outlet by rail.

There are 500 licensed fur farmers in Alberta; double the number of two years ago.

Canada's anti-war film "Let us forget" has been presented before Prime Minister Bennett and his cabinet, and its release has been authorized. The film is the property of the government, taken from the archives of various governments. Most of it is Canadian official material taken by the Beaverbrook staff for the Canadian records office. The theme is Canada's part in the war, and nothing has been soft-pedalled.

JUSTICE IVES RULING IS UPHELD

Five Justices Give Separate Judgments; Three Uphold Ives, Two Favor Dames to Girl

The appeal of Vivian MacMillan and her father against the judgment of Justice Ives in the MacMillan-Brownlee case, was dismissed by the appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta. Five separate judgments were handed down. Chief Justice Harvey, Justice Mitchell and Justice Ford held that the appeal should be dismissed on the ground that there was no proper evidence of damage upon which the jury could rightly enter the verdict it did. Justice Clarke and Justice Lunney held that the girl had sustained her action and in their judgment would award her damages of $10,000 and costs but they would dismiss the action of the father on the ground that there was no evidence of interference of the girl to serve, according to the meaning of the Statute.

The cross appeal of the defendant asking that the Appellate bench say there was no proper evidence of seduction (let alone damages) was not upheld.

OBITUARY

Mrs. W. B. Parker

Mrs. W. B. Parker of Brant died on Feb. 3, at the High River Hospital at the age of 84 years. Her husband predeceased her in 1926. Surviving relatives are three sons, Harold S., Robert and Glenn, all of Brant district, 15 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. Mrs. Parker was born at Owosso, Michigan, in June 1851. She moved to Utah with her family in 1885, and again to Idaho in 1901. In 1904 the family came by wagon to Alberta, homesteading at Brant. It is of interest that Elton Brant Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Parker was the first child born in the village of Brant (January, 1905).

Funeral services for the deceased lady, who was held in high regard by the entire community were held on Tuesday Feb. 5, from the United Church High River with Rev. J. Bell of Brant officiating. A very large attendance indicated the great affection in which the deceased lady was held.

It is sometimes nice not to be a farmer. Just now farmers are in the throes of the Alberta Poultry Marketing scheme. They have to read all the literature on why they should vote for it, and then, to give the other side a break, they must read all the literature on why they should not vote for it. Having balanced pros and cons, they must then register their "yes" or "no" vote. It looks as if they would have to do a power of reading and voting on one thing or another in the next few months.

SPOONER ANACONDA BOOSTS OUTPUT

Sunday's Shot of Nitroglycerine Greatly Increase Flow of Gas

Last Sunday at 3:40 p.m., 810 qts. of nitro glycerine brought an increased production to Spooner-Anacanda. The well flowed at from 1,500,000 cubic feet to 15,000,000 cubic ft. of wet gas. Operators were waiting for the well to cease blowing before trying to ascertain amount of naphtha production. The flow of gas followed the planting of the "shot," almost immediately and the greatly increased production has been received with great enthusiasm by interested parties. The shot was planted at a depth of 6160 feet. Approximately 125 barrels of oil a day are expected. Charles Stalnaker and his assistants are well pleased with results.

The Union Drilling situation is favorable at 5150 feet.

The Renfrew well, worked by the Fay Becker outfit, is held up waiting for casing.

Merland 2 and Publix are also closed temporarily.

NEWS OF OIL FIELD

The Publix oil well is down to a depth of 4960 feet, approximately 60 feet in lime, a good flow of gas coming and a separator was installed on Tuesday in readiness for further developments. Calgary people interested.

Union Drilling Co. well at the extreme south end of Turner Valley is logging satisfactorily with a strong pressure of gas.

Merland No. 2 well will resume drilling operations in the course of a short time.

Renfrew Royalties, Fay Becker driller, awaiting casing before resuming drilling. Depth of well is 4440 feet.

The Carlton Royalties oil well, drilled by Robt. Wilkinson and Fred Elves, at a depth of 5869 feet, producing 130 barrels daily was shot on Tuesday and so far as can be determined at this writing, the flow has increased considerably. Charles Stalnaker and assistants were very pleased with results.

NOT OVER YET

Although the "war to end war" was concluded sixteen years ago, the great nations which engaged in that struggle are today spending more on armaments than they did before the war. Great Britain has nearly doubled its military and naval budget since 1914, the United States is spending about three times as much, and France, Italy and Japan have more than quadrupled their expenditures. The figures throw a sorry light on post-war civilization. — Goderich Signal.

LOCAL ITEMS

The regular meeting of clergymen and laymen of High River Presbytery was held in High River on Tuesday, Feb. 12. The attendance was very satisfactory, and discussions were of value. George E. Mack presided and the visiting speakers included Dr. Powell, Superintendent of Home Missions, and Rev. W. Hibbert, secretary of Religious Education. Those present were from Okotoks, Blackie, Brant, Champion, Carmangay, Cayley, Nanton, Claresholm, Parkland, Staveland, Granum, Turner Valley and High River.

The report of statisticians showed a general advance in all phases of church work in the Presbytery with increase in membership, generous financial support, and healthy condition in all respects.

Dr. Powell addressed the meeting on the subject of Evangelism, and several speakers contributed to the subsequent discussion, the Presbytery stressing the need for evangelistic endeavor and suggesting plans for definite action.

Rev. C. E. Pocock of Okotoks, new convener of the Missionary and Maintenance fund, reported a marked increase over previous years, with the High River Presbytery standing third in the Alberta Conference in support of this fund.

The committee in charge of the pensions fund, reported this fund in satisfactory state, with a definite improvement in the individual responsibility for contribution. Investments are in gilt edged securities.

Rev. W. Hibbert led the discussion on Religious education, and the radio talks of Rev. W. Kelloway on Youth, formed a part of the discussion. Attention was directed to the fact that for the past twenty years the church has been following these lines by way of Trail Rangers and C.G.L.T., and through these mediums the young people had given expression to their ability and interest. Mention was made of the Boy Scout movement and this also was regarded as a very fine factor in the direction

Church of Christ Notes

Next Sunday morning in the Church of Christ the minister will speak of "The Work of the Holy Spirit." In the evening the subject is the second in the series on the signs of the times, topic "The Sign of the Underworld," or "Are the Demons Making their Last Stand." Special music by the choir.

The Wednesday evening study class and prayer meeting will be postponed until Thursday evening owing to the Vulcan Orchestra Concert.

of youth.

The Presbytery took the usual stand in the matter of temperance, advocating restriction of liquor sales.

The matter of admitting women to the ministry came up through a remit from the General Council of Canada, asking that a vote be taken

The wording was: "That the basis of Union be amended by adding the following new clause under the general heading 'the Ministry' in section 'Pastoral Office' including terms of service: 'The ministry shall be open to both men and women.'" This was approved unanimously.

Rev. Fr. Cunningham
Elected Vice-Chairman
Scouting Committee

Mr. Roy Walker and Mr. Ed. Parsons
Appointed on Committee for Foothills District

On Friday evening the annual meeting of the Foothills District Association of Boy Scouts, met in the Elks' hall, High River. The meeting opened with supper, at which were present officials from Calgary and Edmonton, representatives from Vulcan, Okotoks, Turner Valley, Black Diamond, Brant, Ensign and High River, as well as a number of other interested adults.

Rev. E. S. Pocock of Okotoks presided, calling upon various speakers, who presented the value of the Scout work together with plans for launching the membership and financial drives now in progress over Canada.

Col. J. H. Woods, who is the leader of the Scout movement in Alberta, referred to the coming visit of Lord Baden Powell, and the fine spirit which prompted this arduous world tour. Lord Baden Powell organized the Scout movement in 1907 with his teaching of woodcraft and self-reliant boy life as exemplified in the pledge. Since that time the membership has grown amazingly and founded on a solid, practical appeal, has been a great influence for good. It is expected that probably 3000 Scouts will be gathered in Calgary to welcome their Chief. Describing the Scout organization as the greatest peace factor in the world, Colonel Woods also urged the necessity of securing suitable interested leaders, and the value of interest and assistance from all adults of every community.

Mr. Johnston of Edmonton, spoke of the Canadian membership objective of 100,000, and the campaign to raise funds to finance the organization for five years. He referred to the publicity endeavor, started with the radio talk of Lord Bessborough, the provincial radio talks and newspaper support. The financial need is for extension purposes.

Dr. Patrick of Calgary, referred to the reward of doing something for others, as opposed to the entirely selfish aim of many. The Boy Scout work is one of the worthiest and most valuable, and the main purpose of the drive is to spread the teachings of Scouting.

Commissioner Spiller recounted the history of Scout work in Alberta covering the last 25 years, and the experience of many men who are now adults and who owe much of their useful adult citizenship to their early scout train.

R. C. Burns spoke briefly and Ass't Commissioner Steele, explained the proposed program for the Jamboree on April 22. L. J. Thompson spoke of special train rates to enable Scouts to attend the Jamboree.

A. A. Ballachey, chairman of the local committee explained what had already been done in this district, and a motion was carried that a committee composed of two members from each local committee be appointed for the purpose of the campaign. It was carried that Rev. Father Cunningham of Vulcan be vice-chairman. The members of the committee are R. Walker and Mr. Parsons of Vulcan; P. S. Dougherty and G. Wetherup of Brant; Ensign, R. Knowles and T. Thorson of Okotoks; C. Ward and W. Lowery of Turner Valley; O. Zimmerman and Sam Smith of High River; Nanton representatives left to Mr. Galbraith.

There will be a general meeting of all the citizens of Vulcan who are interested in Scout work at a date to be announced later.

Paraphrasing World Events

story of the Scotsman and his wife who were seen and heard by a neighbor having apparently a violent altercation on the street. He told them it was a shame for them to be quarrelling that way in public. "We're not quarrelling," said the Scot, "We are agreeing."

The rest of the story has no application, but it might, as well be told. He added "She says I won't give her a shilling and I'm agreeing with her." There has been a marked increase in the number of Canadian radio performers, says the Radio Commission report. Multiplication follows addition, of course.

The New York Times says some Senators and Congressmen are withholding speeches until after Hauptman gets off the front page. The trial is not of much advantage if it only puts off the evil day. Still, as some one has said, that is the best thing you can do with an evil day.

Law officers of the Crown must feel they have the right man when they and their witnesses receive anonymous letters advising them to lay off or take the consequences. If the man has a perfectly good alibi, why do his friends resort to terrorism?

That the Lindbergh kidnap and murder case was for nearly two years unsolved is due to the fact that it was a one-man affair. The chances of detection increase with the number of persons involved. There are more traces left, and there is always the chance that one will "sneak." If Hauptman is the guilty person—and at this writing the word "if" must be used—he left many traces, but one had to be found first and it was found through the ransom notes. His house and garage furnished the rest of the evidence. If he is declared not guilty never before was there an innocent man in such danger from the fell clutch of circumstances innumerable.

Nanton won from Vulcan 6-2 in the scheduled game Wednesday night on Nanton ice. As this was next to the last game on the schedule, both teams wanted it, and exerted themselves, and both delivered high-class hockey. Nanton took the lead in the first period and held it to the end. The two Vulcan goals were made by Rutan in the second and by Thomas in the final. Nanton scored two in each period. The two Boutland boys, Taylor, McKenzie and Denoon placed the counters for Nanton.
